

Messages written by parishioners are on the studs of Holy Trinity's new parish center. Although the messages will be covered with drywall, the sentiments remain. -photo submitted